PRESENTATION

Gentrification and its effects on health care in the emergency department

DESCRIPTION

Gentrification and redevelopment continue to be a pervasive issue particularly in metropolitan regions of the United States. Gentrification plays a large role in the displacement of already marginalized populations. The purpose of this talk is to highlight how health care is affected by these changes, but also how health care systems contribute to this problem.

OBJECTIVES & OUTCOMES

- Define gentrification with historical context, highlight the shift in demographics, identify concrete examples of how health care is affected, discuss how we as healthcare providers also contribute to the marginalization of vulnerable communities, identify ways to combat these issues and blunt the effects
