

Alison J. Haddock, MD, FACEP, currently serves as regional dean for the Everett campus of the Washington State University Elson S. Floyd College of Medicine. Previously, she was a tenured associate professor of emergency medicine at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, Texas. Dr. Haddock is past chair of the ACEP Board of Directors, Past Chair of the ACEP State Legislative Committee and a Past Board Member for the Emergency Medicine Residents Association and Texas College of Emergency Physicians. Dr. Haddock is a published research author, public speaker and advocate on topics that include health policy, physician wellness and state and federal legislative issues. She attended medical school at Weill Medical College of Cornell University and completed her emergency medicine residency at the University of Michigan.