

Landon Mueller, MD, CAQ-SM, is an assistant professor of clinical emergency medicine at Georgetown University School of Medicine and an attending physician in emergency medicine and sports medicine with MedStar Health. He serves as the Program Director for the Georgetown University/MedStar Health Primary Care Sports Medicine Fellowship and is also the Special Activities Director for the emergency medicine residency. He is a team physician for Georgetown University, a team physician for Old Glory Rugby DC, and the lead emergency physician for the Washington Capitals in the NHL. He completed his sports medicine fellowship at his current program and his emergency medicine residency at Virginia Commonwealth University in Richmond, VA.